

When you have God, you have everything

June 16, 2020 | 29 comments

God is the supplier of every good thing that could ever appear in your life.

If you feel care coming from a friend, that's God in action working through that friend.

If you feel love from a trusted partner, that is God in action working through that partner.

If needed funds appear in time of financial need, that's divine Love coming to your aid in a way that works for the moment you're in.

God is an all-knowing Mind that has a solution to any problem, an answer to every question, and a supply for every need.

The purpose of prayer is to listen and follow where this all-knowing Mind is taking you. God always knows best.

If you see conflict, look for God, for God is the Love that resolves that conflict.

If you see disease, look for God, for God creates the health you seek.

If you see loneliness, look for God, for God is the best company you could ever have.

God is the source of all love, truth, health, intelligence, wisdom, supply, provision, comfort, and life.

When you have God, you have everything.

Enjoy!

Categorized under: God, love

Tagged with: blessings, protection, supply